

OUR BIG IDEA

What if you were able to be part of something really, really big... by simply spending time together with your family and friends?

Like DANDELION TIME itself, our fundraising idea is simple in concept but potentially huge in scope.

It works like this:

We want you to host an event of your choosing and invite friends and family who will engage with Dandelion Time – a charity that deals with fundamental issues around the welfare of our children.

You can do whatever you want! Some people are hosting dinner or lunch parties (usually charging £10 per person), whilst others are running events for around £5 per person such as kids' sports days and wine tastings. How about organising an Easter Egg Hunt or arranging a pub quiz team? The possibilities are endless and the whole point is that your event should fit in with whatever YOU feel happy doing.

Here's the clever bit:

You ask every person who joins you to sign up to host their own Dandelion Time event.

Think about it:

You invite 10 people paying £10 each - that's £100 already!
Your friends host 10 guests – that's 100 people!
They all pay £10 – that's £1,000 to a good cause, Dandelion Time!
And that's just you. Imagine what could happen if the idea spreads ....

THANK YOU FOR JOINING US

HOW TO

We know that you want your project to go as smoothly as possible – ultimately it's a fundraiser for Dandelion Time, but it's equally important for you to enjoy the event without too much pressure! To help make the process easy to follow, we have outlined three key things you need to do.

1. An Introduction to Dandelion Time – film and leaflets: As an opening to the event, why not show your guests our short film? It really conveys the unique work being done and reminds each guest of the important role they will play in keeping the fundraising momentum alive.

We would also be very grateful if you could distribute the enclosed leaflets to each of your guests – it's something to take away and read at leisure, not to sit and discuss in earnest together unless you want to!

2. Collection of funds and follow-up for next phase events: The enclosed form is for each guest to complete. It confirms collection of their donation to you and commitment to hosting their own Dandelion Time event in the future.

Please then send the completed forms and donations to Dandelion Time.

3. After the event: Your feedback is important to us so do let us know how it went! If you take any photos or video, email them in and we'll upload onto the website:
